NOTICES

1.1 REMARKS OF PETER J. DEY, CHAIRMAN OF THE O.S.C.

EXTRACTS FROM
REMARKS OF PETER J. DEY
TO THE SOCIETY OF FINANCIAL ANALYSTS
ON MAY 4, 1983

When I accepted this invitation to address this distinguished Society shortly after my appointment in January, I did not feel that it was necessary to specify topics for my comments. I was fairly confident that when the time arrived, there would be a number of issues of interest before the OSC upon which I could comment.

Well, even my wildest expectations have been surpassed. The processes of the OSC have undergone, and apparently are still undergoing, careful scrutiny.

Unfortunately - for all of us - understanding the operations of the Ontario Securities Commission is not something that can be achieved overnight.

But, as part of the Commission's efforts to improve understanding of its procedures, I would like to address a couple of the issues raised by the Norcen investigation.

Then, I would like to turn to some securities regulation policy issues which affect you and your clients, including, some early implications of unfixing commission rates; a status report on our regulation of financial forecasts; and a hint at a possible new Ontario direction for regulating follow-up offers.

As to the Norcen investigation, one of the issues that the public has difficulty understanding is how the Commission could decide not to initiate proceedings under the Securities Act in the face of a staff recommendation in favour of a prosecution.

Before addressing this issue, it is important to understand that there is a distinction between the staff and the Commission.

The Enforcement staff is made up of 49 full-time employees, including lawyers, accountants and investigators.

The Commission, on the other hand, is constituted with 7 part-timers, appointed for specified terms, with various backgrounds (lawyers, accountants, investment dealers and businessmen) and two full-timers, the Vice-Chairman, a lawyer and career civil servant, and the Chairman. This distinction is important to understanding the evolution of an investigation.

Now, how are investigations initiated:

The Commission undertakes two types of investigations - in general terms, characterized as "formal" or "informal".

A formal investigation is one which is conducted under a Commission order - a so-called section 11 order, under which the Commission appoints a person to conduct the investigation and gives that person the power to summon witnesses and compel witnesses to give evidence and produce documents.

These are very serious powers to be exercised with great care. An informal investigation, on the other hand, is carried out as part of the Commission's general responsibility for the due administration of the Act. The Commission, therefore, does not issue section 11 orders in respect of every investigation that its staff undertakes.

Investigations are initiated by the staff, either on its own initiative, or upon direction from the Commission. An investigation may be in response to a complaint or may be based upon an observation of a development in the market.

At the outset, the decision must be made by the staff whether the investigation should be conducted on an informal basis, or whether the powers of a Commission order should be sought in order to provide the basis for the investigation.

If the staff believes that the persons which are the subject of the investigation will be forthright, and will provide the requested evidence, the investigation will normally proceed on an informal basis.

It is, however, possible, that the investigation may progress to a point where the staff may seek a Commission order.

If it is apparent at the outset that the subjects of the investigation will not be forthright, a Commission order will be sought by the staff.

One factor that has not been important, at least prior to the Norcen investigation, in determining whether to proceed informally or by way of Commission order, is the confidentiality of the evidence produced on the investigation.

It is an offence under the Securities Act for any person to disclose evidence obtained in an investigation conducted under a section 11 order.

In practice, this means that not only the evidence produced on an investigation, but the very existence of a section 11 investigation, cannot be disclosed. What we now have to consider, after the improper leak of the investigators' report in Norcen, is whether we shouldn't be conducting virtually all of our investigations ...formal and informal... under section 11 in order to provide the legal framework (rather than relying upon convention), to ensure confidentiality of the material resulting from the investigation.

Consider why confidentiality is important - why it's in all of our interests to ensure that material resulting from any investigation and the investigators' report are kept confidential.

An investigation is carried out by the staff, and results in a staff report, plus recommendations, being forwarded to the Commission. The Commission itself does not participate directly in the investigation, in order that it can bring an objective mind to the consideration of the staff recommendations.

The Commission's consideration of the staff report is done behind closed doors because this process is not a judicial proceeding. It is not a proceeding for which public notice is given, or at which evidence is adduced by the parties whose conduct is the subject of the investigation. It is simply a meeting between the staff and the Commission, at which the staff summarizes its investigation, and makes submissions in support of its recommendations.

The Commission does not then sit to rubber stamp staff recommendations. Indeed, it is not uncommon for the Commission to disagree with the staff. There is a healthy tension between the staff and Commission which, I think, contributes materially to the better administration of our securities laws.

The Commission must bring its collective experience and its understanding of the policies reflected in the Securities Act to the consideration of the staff report.

I said that this proceeding is not a judicial proceeding, and I want to stress this. A proceeding which is not judicial does not affect the rights of the persons who are the subject of the investigation. The result of the Commission consideration of the staff report could be to initiate a process which could affect the rights of an individual, such as a prosecution. Or, the Commission consideration could result in the termination of the investigation, in which case, the public would never know of the investigation, or of the Commission's conclusions concerning the investigation.

You can understand the importance of confidentiality. If it is known that the Commission is investigating a particular person or company, and that the investigators are making a particular recommendation, that person's reputation could be prejudiced without affording the person or company the opportunity to respond to the results of the investigation.

If the investigation should proceed to a prosecution, then the Commission must prove its case and the person or company charged has an opportunity to defend itself. This is due process. Therefore, the leak of an investigation report, and any publicity which ensues, does not accord the persons who are the subject of the investigation, due process....

Other principles have emerged from our experience in the NorcenA case - an important one is the independence of the Ontario Securities Commission in the exercise of its powers - independence from all influences, whether private or political.

It is a basic principle that if the community is going to have confidence in the manner in which we administer our laws, the community must believe that we are acting independently of outside influence, and only in the public interest.

I would like to give some preliminary thoughts on an issue which I thought, a couple of weeks ago, might be the main theme of my remarks today - the implications of unfixing commission rates.

My conclusion, however, is that there hasn't been enough time to make any meaningful comment, except to say, that I hope that your experience is that the demand for research and analysis is at least as high now, as it was before April 1, and that the analysis is just as comprehensive.

I say this because one of the important policy trends in securities regulation is to reduce reliance upon the prospectus as a means of investor protection, and to increase the reliance upon disclosure in the secondary market.

This trend is based, in part, on the assumption that disclosure in the secondary market will be reflected in the price of securities. This is obviously where research and analysis play an important role. Indeed, it is one of the assumptions upon which the short form prospectus system, otherwise known as the "POP System", is based.

And that is, that a full prospectus is redundant in respect of securities for which there is an attentive following. In the not too distant future, we will have to test the validity of this assumption as we determine whether to extend or retract the POP System.

A couple of weeks ago, we attended a conference of securities regulators in South America - one of their great frustrations in developing capital markets is the lack of comprehensive research. They expressed the view that without research analysts, it is virtually impossible for markets to develop naturally.

A couple of important policy issues have arisen with the advent of unfixed commission rates. A few discounters have opened up. They tell us that if the small investor can't afford the full service firm, he should have the alternative of a discount firm. Under the existing regulatory framework, the discounter can cut his service to the bone, but he must still discharge his obligations under the suitability rules.

Some segments of the financial community have argued that the Stock Exchange by-laws and our Regulations should be revised to allow discounters to cut their services even further. Their proposal is that an investor should be able to waive whatever protection is afforded by discharge of the suitability requirements.

We had some discussions with the Exchange on the subject, and encouraged the Exchange to develop a position. Ultimately, the Exchange Board of Governors gave preliminary approval to a proposed by-law which would allow the waiver in certain circumstances.

This position generated a lot of heat amongst Exchange members. Those supporting the proposal felt that this was the inevitable result of unfixing commission rates and rationalizing brokerage services - while others felt that the proposal represented a compromise of a basic principle upon which the integrity of the brokerage industry is based.

Hoping that this heat could be directed to the issue at hand, the Commission intervened to propose - not a hearing - but a public meeting at which the policy implications could be discussed.

The Exchange agreed with this approach to the resolution of the issue, and it has advised us that it will not be taking a position at the hearing, but will be appearing as a "friend of the court", to inform the Commission of both the advantages and the disadvantages of the proposal.

We did not think that an issue any hotter than the suitability rule could arise, until one of the major chartered banks announced the availability of an investor service that would have provided to its customers access to brokerage services at greatly reduced commission rates.

In addition, the service would make available marketing information, safekeeping services, portfolio evaluation reports, a detailed monthly trading activity report, and daily interest on credit balances.

The bank argued that it was simply packaging services which were available prior to April 1, and that with the abolition of fixed commissions, it was simply making available to its customers the opportunity to take advantage of greatly reduced commission rates.

I am certain that the bank believed that it was making this proposal within the terms of its registration, and within the terms of exemptions from registration under the Securities Act. To resolve this position would have required a lengthy discussion on whether the bank's offering of the service constituted a solicitation. There is also the question of the Bank Act and whether regulation of bank activities by the Securities Commission conflicts with the Bank Act.

The reaction of the brokerage community was that the bank was entering into the discount brokerage business, and that even with one bank offering this service, the result would be a profound change in the shape of the brokerage community.

The Commission was concerned that the shape of the brokerage community not develop by default, but be developed in accordance with some carefully researched and considered policy objectives. Because the Commission had already called a hearing into one aspect of the discount business and decided to extend the hearing into considering financial institutions in the brokerage business, the Commission asked the bank to withdraw the service. The bank has agreed to do this.

The hearing, originally scheduled for late May, has been deferred to the middle of June, to allow interested parties adequate time to prepare.

Although I call it a hearing, it really will be simply a public meeting at which interested parties can make their views known to the Commission.

As part of that consideration of the policy implications, we will develop some principles applicable to investor services offered by the banks and other financial institutions.

It is quite apparent to me that the June hearing will get right down to basics. The message that has been communicated to me by a number of brokers is simply, do you want a brokerage industry, or not? We are hoping that other financial institutions and regulatory agencies will make submissions at the hearing.

Now I want to turn to the subject of financial forecasts. First, a bit of background, and then some comments on the Commission's experience to date.

You may recall that earnings forecasts were finally dealt with expressly in a Regulation enacted under the Ontario Securities Act, in December, 1982, the effect of which was to prohibit an underwriter offering securities by prospectus from using a forecast to market the securities unless the forecast was set out in the prospectus.

The theory behind the Regulation was quite simple.

First - if a forecast is going to be used to market the securities, a fairly common practice - at least prior to the Regulation - then the forecast must be included in the prospectus.

This means that the forecast is available to all investors, not just selected investors.

The second objective was to ensure that the preparation of the forecast is subject to the rigours of prospectus preparation.

This regulation was supplemented by an interim Commission policy, requiring that the forecast be prepared in accordance with the proposed CICA Accounting Guidelines, and reviewed in accordance with the proposed CICA Auditing Guidelines.

You might be interested in some of the comments we have received upon our regulation of financial forecasts.

A first question is whether the Commission should impose its regulatory framework for financial forecasts upon disclosure documents, other than the prospectus.

Notwithstanding that the regulation applies only to prospectuses, should we, for example, extend our requirements to take-over bid circulars, issuer bid circulars, interim financial statements, annual financial statements, annual reports? For the time being, it is clear that our requirements should apply to forecasts included in prospectuses, short form prospectuses (whether included in the short form prospectus, or incorporated by reference), and securities exchange take-over bid circulars.

We are currently considering whether to extend the regulation of forecasts to other disclosure documents filed with the Commission, but I sense that the Commission will want to develop more experience with forecasts in prospectuses before extending its regulations to documents published in the secondary market.

I am being a bit inconsistent in this position, because I see the whole trend in securities regulation as being to reduce reliance upon the prospectus, and increase reliance upon documents published in the secondary market.

However, with a new regulation such as the one dealing with financial forecasts, we should proceed one step at a time.

When the Regulation was enacted, the Commission's thinking was neither to encourage, nor discourage, the use of financial forecasts. The decision to use a forecast in a prospectus remains solely that of the issuer.

We are not concerned that the initial scheme of regulations adopted has had the effect of discouraging issuers from including forecasts in prospectuses.

To date, we have had only four prospectuses which included earnings forecasts filed with the Commission. We have received comment to the effect that the requirement to update the forecasts every quarter, is too onerous. It may be that this requirement should be changed, and that updating should only be required in the interim financial statement, which follows a significant change in the forecasts.

I am confident that we will continue the requirement for updating, because it creates a strong incentive for the issuer to ensure that the assumptions are reasonable, and that the forecast is made over a reasonable period of time.

One measure that might provide some comfort for persons signing prospectuses which include forecasts, would be the enactment of a "safe harbour" rule.

Under the general liability provision of the Securities Act, a director or officer signing a prospectus would not be liable with respect to the forecast unless he failed to conduct a reasonable investigation.

A safe harbour rule would provide a defence to directors and other signatories of a prospectus if the forecast is made on a reasonable basis, and is disclosed in good faith.

We will be publishing a revised policy very shortly, to address some of these comments. The new policy will also reflect the co-operative efforts of OSC staff and the CICA to have the policy operate in a manner consistent with the updated accounting and auditing guidelines.

A final issue on which I would like to make a few comments, concerns our current approach to follow-up offers.

Although we have our share of problems at the Commission these days, we don't have the barrage of acquisitions which the previous Chairman faced, with the consequent problems. Therefore, we have been able to consider follow-up offers in a slightly less hectic environment. We are, however, aware that this area of the Act continues to be a potential problem area. One area of concern is the jurisdictional question - when is the follow-up triggered?

We have, I think, effectively diluted the "sandbox theory" for the application of the follow-up offer - and that is, if the target company is a reporting issuer in Ontario, regardless of the home address of the offeree shareholder in the private agreement, the purchaser is obligated to make a follow-up offer.

The position of the Commission is that the Act triggers the follow-up obligation under section 91(1) of the Act, only if the private agreement vendor has an Ontario address.

This position is subject to the caution that the private purchase of control of a company which uses Ontario capital markets is like every other transaction which affects the capital markets -

It must be reviewed and its impact assessed.

The Commission could intervene in the case of the private purchase of control, if the terms of the private agreement, or the circumstances of the execution of the private agreement, could be regarded as abusive to minority shareholders, or as having a negative impact on the capital markets.

We hope to publish some guidelines in the near future, setting out circumstances in which the Commission would intervene, even in circumstances where a follow-up offer is not technically required.

The easiest example is the vendor shareholder who organizes his affairs, knowing that he is about to sell control for a premium, in such a manner as to avoid the follow-up obligation.

So much for the administration -

What of the policy questions underlying the follow-up requirement?

I think you can take it as a given that the Legislature is committed to the principle that in some manner a premium for control must be shared among all shareholders.

The problem under the current regulatory regime arises because control is acquired at one point in time, and the obligation may be discharged at a later point in time - a later point in time at which the economic position of the acquiror may be substantially different from its position at the time the obligation is triggered.

Quebec has approached this problem in a constructive fashion.

The Quebec approach is to remove the private agreement exemption for acquisitions of control, where a premium in excess of 15% is paid.

If an acquiror proposes to pay more than the accepted level of premium, then all shareholders must be dealt with in the same fashion, at the same point in time - both the controlling and minority shareholders.

The Quebec approach deals with the Ontario problem, in that the follow-up and the purchase of control must occur simultaneously. This approach removes, as well, a lot of the discretion which is vested in the Commission to administer the present Ontario requirements.

One of the problems with our provincial system of securities regulation in this area, is the unevenness of the regulation of follow-up offers from jurisdiction to jurisdiction.

This results in the triggering of a follow-up offer in fortuitous circumstances and that is the vendor of control being resident in a province which has a follow-up offer obligation.

Uniformity amongst the provinces is desirable, and this is where I see a major contribution being made by the Joint Industry Committee, which is headed by Pierre Lortie, the President of The Montreal Exchange.

In preliminary discussions with that committee, we understand that one of the approaches being discussed is to adopt the Quebec approach.

In addition, the Committee is considering a scheme which would allow shareholders which want to create companies where control premiums do not have to be shared, to create a special class of non-participating shares - that is, non-participating in control premiums - and also to allow controlling shareholders to avoid sharing a control premium if the subsequent consent of the minority shareholders is obtained.

The Lortie Committee, at least in one of its approaches, is saying that there can be two fairness models to deal with the sale of control premiums.

In the normal case, the offer would have to be made pro rata at the same consideration to all shareholders if a premium was paid.

Where, however, a controlling shareholder prefers not to share a control premium, and goes public by selling restricted shares, or raises additional equity capital by selling restricted shares, and there is prior disclosure that the shareholders would have no entitlement to share pro rata on a take-over bid, then it is not unfair for the controlling shareholder to obtain a premium, without sharing that premium with other shareholders.

The Commission is very grateful for the initiative taken by the securities industry in studying this difficult area of securities regulation, and we await their final report with interest.

We think the joint industry recommendations will contribute in a very significant way to the work of the Commissions towards greater uniformity in the regulation of take-over bids.

In conclusion, I have today tried to share with you a couple of the teachings of the Norcen investigation, and to specify a couple of policy areas we are examining at the Commission. I would be happy to try to answer or obtain answers on questions concerning these, and other issues of interest to you.

1.3 BLEWETT, NEIL COLLINS

IN THE MATTER OF THE COMMODITY FUTURES ACT,
R.S.O. 1980, CHAPTER 78

AND

IN THE MATTER OF NEIL COLLINS BLEWETT

NOTICE OF HEARING AND REVIEW
(Section 4)

WHEREAS pursuant to a Notice of Hearing dated September 14, 1982 the Director of the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") commenced a hearing pursuant to the provisions of section 23 of the Commodity Futures Act, R.S.O. 1980, C.78 (the "Act") on Friday, September 24, 1982 to consider whether registration should be granted to NEIL COLLINS BLEWETT ("Blewett") as a salesman with Cambridge Commodities Company because of the following allegations:

1. BLEWETT was first registered as a salesman under The Securities Act on February 28, 1968.
2. BLEWETT was subject to disciplinary proceedings by the Toronto Stock Exchange ("T.S.E.") which commenced on November 3, 1971, wherein it was alleged and found as a fact that during the years 1969 and 1970 while BLEWETT was employed as a registered representative by Francis I. duPont & Co. (later duPont, Glore, Forgan Canada Limited) he failed to disclose his interest required for purposes as set forth in sections 8.09(d) and 11.20 of the General By-law of the T.S.E. in the "Carlton Investment Club", "Neimon Enterprises Limited", trading accounts opened with the duPont firm between May of 1969 and October of 1970 and precluded his employer from learning the essential facts relative to every order or account accepted as required by section 16.01 of the General By-law. Among other penalties imposed the Member Organizations Committee placed BLEWETT on one year's probation.
3. BLEWETT was also subject to disciplinary proceedings by the New York Stock Exchange (the "N.Y.S.E.") wherein it was found that while on probation BLEWETT engaged in (1) conduct contrary to an established practice of the N.Y.S.E. in that he caused his member firm employer to violate N.Y.S.E. rule 406 by carrying an account on its books in a name other than that of the customer; and (2) conduct inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade in that BLEWETT opened an account in the name of a non-existent corporation. BLEWETT was suspended from employment in any capacity with a member or member organization for a period of six months and barred from eligibility to serve in any supervisory position with a member firm for a period of five years effective July 7, 1972. On appeal by BLEWETT to the Board of Governors, the sanction was affirmed.

4. By order of the Deputy Director Registration of the Commission dated February 9, 1973 BLEWETT was refused registration pursuant to the securities act because he had not disclosed on his application for registration that the disciplinary proceedings described in paragraphs 3 & 4 above had taken place, and for other reasons as set out in the Reasons of the Deputy Director Registration dated February 9, 1973.
5. By a Decision of the Director of the Commission given pursuant to a hearing under section 23 of the commodity futures Act, 1978 on October 9, 1979, Blewett Commodities Limited, Neil C. Blewett, Paulette R. Blewett and McCormick Commodities Incorporated were denied registration under that Act for the reasons set out in the said Decision, namely:
 - a) from January through April, 1979, unauthorized trades in silver and soybean oil contracts were made by the applicants in the account of 373804 Ontario Ltd. (Brian Hurlburt);
 - b) from February through April, 1979, unauthorized trades in soybean oil and pork belly contracts were made by the applicants in the account of Douglas Shaw;
 - c) from November, 1978, through July 1979, the account of Diane Litwicki was treated as a discretionary account by the applicants even though the balance in the account was less than the minimum specified by the by-laws of the Chicago Board of Trade.
6. By reason of the conduct of BLEWETT as described in paragraphs 2, 3, 4 and 5 above, and by reason of the findings of the T.S.E., N.Y.S.E. the Deputy Director Registration and the Director of the Commission in proceedings under the securities act and the commodity futures act, 1978, BLEWETT is not a suitable person to be registered under the Commodity Futures Act, R.S.O. 1980, c. 78.

AND WHEREAS the Director upon receiving the evidence and hearing the submissions of counsel for the Commission and BLEWETT delivered a Decision dated February 23, 1983 (the "Decision");

AND WHEREAS BLEWETT has requested a hearing and review of the said Decision;

NOW THEREFORE TAKE NOTICE that the Commission will hold a hearing and review of the Decision pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of the Act on Monday day the 27th day of June, 1983 at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon or so soon thereafter as the hearing and review can be held, at the Commission office, 18th Floor, 20 Queen Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

AND TAKE NOTICE that any party to the proceedings may be represented by counsel of his choice at the hearing if he attends or submits evidence thereat.

AND TAKE NOTICE that upon failure of any party to attend at the time and place aforesaid, the hearing may proceed in his absence and he is not entitled to any further notice in the proceedings.

NATIONAL POLICY NO. 2-A GUIDE FOR ENGINEERS, GEOLOGISTS AND PROSPECTORS
SUBMITTING REPORTS ON MINING PROPERTIES
TO CANADIAN PROVINCIAL SECURITIES ADMINISTRATORS

General

Reports submitted must be engineering documents. They must be factual and the recommendations must be warranted in the light of the information and data presented in the report. The author must state that, in his judgment, the venture is of sufficient merit to make the work recommended a worthwhile undertaking.

Authors with professional affiliations will use their seal.

Reports will be accepted only for the purposes of a prospectus if prepared by an engineer, geologist or prospector who has gained a minimum of three years practical experience, unless the author holds exceptional qualifications and there are unusual circumstances.

Where the proceeds of the issue are being applied to the property being reported upon, the person making the report required to be filed with the administrator (Commission) must be free of any association with the issuer. Therefore, except where specifically provided for in the Regulations, the report shall not be written by a director, officer or employee of the issuer or of an affiliate of the issuer or who is a partner, employer or employee or any such director, officer or employee or who is an associate of any director or officer of the issuer or of an affiliate of the issuer. The report shall not be submitted if the person making it or any partner or employer or associate to him beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, any securities of the issuer or of a subsidiary thereof or, if the issuer is a subsidiary, any securities of the parent issuer. This latter restriction does not apply to a person, partner, employer or associate, as the case may be, if the person, partner, employer or associate is not empowered to decide whether securities of the issuer or the parent issuer, as the case may be, are to be beneficially owned, directly or indirectly, by him, or if he is not entitled to vote in respect thereof.

Source of Information

If any of the information and data are not based on the author's own observations and investigations, their source should be clearly stated, giving exact reference to published reports and records. When such information is derived from unpublished or private reports or records, a photostatic or other authenticated copy of the original should be submitted, together with a letter of consent and a certificate of qualification respecting that author's professional qualification, except where the report is a matter of public record such as those on open file in a provincial or federal natural resources department.

Wherever reasonable and practicable, reports must be based upon the author's personal inspection of the property being reported upon.

Content of Reports

A complete report should include a description of the properties of the issuer in accordance with the requirements of the appropriate provincial legislation and regulations and should contain all pertinent exploration data including plans and sections. The report should be presented under the following headings as applicable:

Table of Contents

Summary

Preamble or Introduction including author's terms of reference

Property, Description and Location

Accessibility, Climate, Local Resources

History - comprehensive, with references to all previous work for which records are available

Geology

Mineral Deposits and their state of Development

The report must clearly distinguish between mineral showings which occur on the issuer's property being reported upon and those elsewhere in the area.

Reserves and Production

Conclusions and Recommendations with Cost Estimates

In Intermediate (Development) and Senior Financing (Production) Reports, the following vital considerations must be explored:

Recoverability and amenability of the raw material

Tonnage and grade versus optimum profitability

Markets

Smelter Contracts, tolls and transportation

Taxes

Cash flow, capital and operating cost estimates

Payback of capital with interest

The description of the properties must include claim numbers, whether patented or unpatented and if contiguous. The percentage of interest held in the properties should be stated.

If the potential merit of a property is predicated entirely or in part on results obtained on neighbouring ground, the known history of the latter should also be covered.

A description of mineralization encountered on the property should be given detailing the strike length, width, continuity and the basis of such measurement together with a description of the type, character and distribution of the mineralization. References as to its grade should be substantiated by assays with the dates thereof, and by assay plans and sections. In addition to giving the widths of the individual samples it should be stated whether these are the author's own samples or those of other parties. The method of sampling should be described making it clear whether assay results are based on channel samples, chip samples, grab samples, character samples or core samples.

Values in precious metals should be expressed in ounces per ton or grams per metric ton and the content of other metals, etc., in percentages or pounds per ton, but not in dollars or other currency.

Care should be taken in the use of the word "ore". The term is defined in the most recent Ontario Regulations as follows:

- (a) "Ore" means a natural aggregate of one or more minerals which, at a specified time and place, may be mined and sold at a profit, or from which some part may be profitably separated;

- (b) "Proven Ore" or "measured ore" means that material for which tonnage is computed from dimensions revealed in outcrops or trenches or underground workings or drill holes and for which the grade is computed from the results of adequate sampling, and for which the sites for inspection, sampling and measurement are so spaced and the geological character so well defined that the size, shape and mineral content are established, and for which the computed tonnage and grade are judged to be accurate within limits which shall be stated and for which it shall be stated whether the tonnage and grade of proven ore or measured ore are 'in situ' or extractable, with dilution factors shown, and reasons for the use of these dilution factors clearly explained;
- (c) "Probable ore" or "indicated ore" means that material for which tonnage and grade are computed partly from specific measurements, samples or production data, and partly from projection for a reasonable distance on geological evidence, and for which the sites available for inspection, measurement and sampling are too widely or otherwise inappropriately spaced to outline the material completely or to establish its grade throughout;
- (d) "Possible ore" or "inferred ore" means that material for which quantitative estimates are based largely on broad knowledge of the geological character of the deposit and for which there are few, if any, samples or measurements, and for which the estimates are based on an assumed continuity or repetition for which there are reasonable geological indications, which indications may include comparison with deposits of similar type, and bodies that are completely concealed may be included if there is specific evidence of their presence, and
 - (i) estimates of "possible ore" or "inferred ore" shall include a statement of conditions within which the inferred material occurs, and
 - (ii) since the arithmetical average of any amount of sampling is not necessarily representative unless the distribution of values and number of samples are properly taken into account, a statement of how samples were taken shall be given, and where mineralization is erratic, the method of treating the erratic values shall be given in the narrative of the report.

Where the word "ore" may not properly be used, such terms as "mineralization", "mineralized bodies" or "concentrations", etc. should be used.

The information supplied in the report should be sufficient and positive enough to warrant the recommendations made. An estimate of costs for the proposed programme should be included.

Maps

Reports must be well illustrated by plans and by sections to give an adequate picture of the property. All reports must be accompanied by a location or index map and a more detailed plan showing all important features described in the text. If nearby properties have an important bearing on the possibilities of the ground under consideration, their location should be shown on the maps. Where the mineralized or ore-bearing structures are expected to pass from one property to the other, this should be indicated clearly on the map.

In case the potential merit of a property is predicated on geophysical or geochemical results, maps showing result of the surveys and the interpretations should be submitted.

All maps should show a scale, a North arrow, and should be signed and dated. If geological features or other data have been taken from government maps or from drawings of other engineers or geologists, this should be properly acknowledged.

Consent to Use of Name in Prospectus

Where the author of the report or valuation is named as having prepared or certified any part of a prospectus or is named as having prepared or certified a report or valuation used in connection with a prospectus, the written consent of such author to the inclusion of such report or valuation shall accompany the report or valuation when filed with the administrator. It is the responsibility of the author when giving such consent to have assured himself that it can properly be given.

Certificate of the Author

All reports must be submitted in duplicate with the author's certificate attached, both dated and signed. The certificate shall state:

- (a) the name, address and occupation of the author;
- (b) the qualification of such person;
- (c) whether or not the report is based on personal examination;
- (d) the date of any such examination;
- (e) if the report is not based on personal examination, the source of the information contained in the report; and
- (f) whether he has, directly or indirectly, received or expects to receive any interest, direct or indirect, in the property of the issuer or any affiliate, or beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, any securities of the issuer or any affiliate and if so give particulars.

B.2 PARAMET CORPORATION LTD.

HEADNOTEPARAMET CORPORATION LTD.

THIS IS A SUMMARY OF THE RULING ON PAGES 405 & 406 OF THE BULLETIN 8/04/83/VOL. 6

S.73 - REGISTRATION - NON-RESIDENT - INVESTMENT
COUNSEL/PORTFOLIO MANAGER - REGULATION S. 133, 134

The applicant, a wholly-owned subsidiary of a British owned insurance company, which has had a presence in Canada since 1923, was granted a ruling under section 73 having the effect of permitting the registration of the applicant as an advisor in the categories of investment counsel and portfolio manager, notwithstanding the prohibition against non-resident ownership of registrants in section 133 of the Regulation.

Staff Commentary

Anticipating that the Commission would not readily grant exemptions from sections 133 and 134 of the Regulations in respect of non-resident ownership of registrants, but might in some circumstances do so in the case of an adviser as opposed to a dealer, it was argued:

1. The resident ownership component of the investment advisory segment of the investment industry would not be threatened by the registration of Paramet;
2. The "material or unique" test set forth in section 134 of the Regulations that is suggested or referred to in prior Commission decisions should be replaced by the "not prejudicial to the public interest" test in section 73;
3. Paramet is a wholly-owned subsidiary of an insurance company having a presence in Canada since 1923;
4. There were no circumstances adverse to Paramet that would give rise to treatment by the Commission differing from that afforded to the applicants in prior favourable Commission decisions;
i.e. Standard Life Portfolio Management, Imasco Capital Management and Ruggles & Crysedale Inc.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT,
R.S.O. 1980, CHAPTER 466

AND

IN THE MATTER OF PARAMET CORPORATION LTD.

RULING
(Section 73)

UPON the application of Paramet Corporation Ltd. ("Paramet") to the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") for a ruling pursuant to section 73 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, c. 466 (the "Act") exempting Paramet from the requirements of section 133 of the Regulation to the Act in respect of the proposed registration of Paramet as an advisor in the categories of investment counsellor and portfolio manager;

AND UPON it appearing to the Commission that:

1. Paramet is a company incorporated under the laws of Canada, all of the issued and outstanding securities of which are held by Prudential Assurance Company Limited ("Prudential"), a wholly-owned subsidiary of Prudential Corporation plc, a British company; and accordingly, Paramet is a "non-resident" as defined in section 84(21) of the Regulation to the Act;
2. Prudential has been carrying on business in Canada since 1923, and presently carries on a full range of insurance activities, including such investment advisory and management activities as are permitted by the applicable legislation;
3. The involvement of Paramet as investment adviser in respect of Prudential's currently managed funds and accounts will enable Prudential's clients to retain custody of the assets in such accounts, and accordingly will alleviate the present competitive disadvantage suffered by Prudential in that it, or a Canadian trustee on its behalf, is required, as a non-resident insurance company pursuant to the applicable legislation, to retain custody of its assets under administration;

AND UPON reading the application, the joint submission by The Toronto Stock Exchange and the Ontario District Council of the Investment Dealers Association, and the recommendations of Commission staff;

AND UPON receiving a letter from the Investment Council Association of Ontario stating the non-objection of such Association to the registration of Paramet as an investment counsel and portfolio manager;

AND UPON hearing counsel for Paramet and Prudential, for The Toronto Stock Exchange, for the Ontario District Council of the Investment Dealers Association and for the Commission;

AND UPON being satisfied that to so rule would not be prejudicial to the public interest;

NOW THEREFORE, it is ruled pursuant to section 73 of the Act that Paramet is not subject to section 24 of the Act. In respect of its registration as an adviser in the categories of investment counsel and portfolio manager only insofar as Paramet shall be exempt from the requirements of section 133 of the Regulation to the Act, on the following terms and conditions:

1. That to the extent that the clients of Paramet are not trusts and corporations to which Part XI of the Income Tax Act (Canada) is applicable, the investment discretionary authority exercised by Paramet, to the extent consistent with the instructions of such clients, shall be exercised by Paramet, to the extent consistent with the instructions of such clients, shall be exercised as if the clients are subject to the foreign property restrictions which are applicable to trusts and corporations to which Part XI of the Income Tax Act (Canada) are applicable;
2. That the assets under management by Paramet shall be limited to three percent of total Canadian Trusteed pension fund assets as determined by Statistics Canada from time to time;
3. That the registration of Paramet shall be subject to review by the Ontario Securities Commission in the event of a material change in its ownership, as defined in paragraph 17 of section 83 of the Regulation under the Act;
4. That Paramet shall carry on business without having custody of clients' assets; and
5. That the registration of Paramet and any renewal thereof shall be subject to all conditions of registration applicable to an adviser classified in the category of portfolio manager, other than the condition of registration set out in sections 131 to 135, inclusive, of the Regulation to the Act.

NOTICES

1.1 BRAY, HARRY S.

HARRY S. BRAY 1921-1983

Harry S. Bray, Immediate Past Vice-Chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, passed away suddenly in late April. Reproduced below are tributes paid in the Legislative Assembly to a distinguished public servant of this province; indeed, of this country.

Hon. Mr. Elgie: Mr. Speaker, I am sure the House would want me, on its behalf, to pay tribute to a former vice-chairman of the Ontario Securities Commission, Harry Bray, who has served this province well and who passed away yesterday. Harry Bray's contribution is recognized by many. His role in terms of the financial industry of this province and the preservation of its integrity and of the public interest is well understood. Indeed, many would look on him as the Elliot Ness of this province. It is with great sadness that I express regret at his passing.

Mr. Renwick: Mr. Speaker, I would like to join, as I know my colleagues would who knew Harry Bray, in expressing our immense regret at the suddenness of his death. Over the years, I had occasion to have been associated with Mr. Bray. I did not always agree with him but he brought an unfailing courtesy to the work of the commission. He had served this province on the commission for something over 30 years. He was Mr. Securities as far as Ontario was concerned. The knowledge, skill and ability which is reflected in the Securities Act is a monument to his passing.

The remarks which he made at the end of December, when he attended the last meeting of the Ontario Securities Commission in his capacity as vice-chairman, are ones which should on an appropriate occasion be noted. He contributed to the integrity of the securities markets in this province in a way that this province must be indebted to him for his contribution. On behalf of my colleagues and others in the assembly who knew him, I would like to extend our condolences to his widow and to his children.

Hon. Mr. Drea: Mr. Speaker, I would rise to add a personal contribution on the passing of a most distinguished constituent of my riding, as well as a most distinguished public servant of this province, with whom I had the honour to serve both as a parliamentary assistant in the Ministry of Consumer and Commercial Relations while many of the present statutes were being drafted and again as the minister when that particular legislation and many of the administrative practices were finalized.

Mr. Bray exemplified all that has made the public service of Ontario the finest in the world. He had an enormous zest for work, in a field that is infinitely complex, infinitely challenging and where the calibre of the man and his character are virtually always under test. It is true that from time to time there were allegations that Mr. Bray was too firm, too dedicated, but if Mr. Bray had any failing it was that he was too honest, and I do not think that is a failing.

At the same time, he was a very practical, realistic and very progressive public servant. As the former minister and as his member of the Legislature for many years, I would extend to his widow not only the usual condolences but also the fact that this assembly does recognize the tremendous contribution he made to the people, the investors and the business of this province.

5.1 PURCHASER'S STATUTORY RIGHTS

NATIONAL POLICY NO. 35

PURCHASER'S STATUTORY RIGHTS

With the adoption of the prompt offering prospectus system, the Canadian Securities Administrators adopted a short statement of withdrawal and rescission rights to be included in the short form, or simplified, prospectus. The Administrators have now agreed to extend the use of the short statement to any other form of prospectus. The following text should appear in each prospectus filed with more than one Administrator after July 1st, 1983.

"Securities legislation in certain of the provinces provides purchasers with the right to withdraw from an agreement to purchase securities within two business days after receipt or deemed receipt of a prospectus and any amendment. In several of the provinces and territories securities legislation further provides a purchaser with remedies for rescission or, in some jurisdictions, damages where the prospectus and any amendment contains a misrepresentation or is not delivered to the purchaser but such remedies must be exercised by the purchaser within the time limit prescribed by the securities legislation of his province or territory. The purchaser should refer to any applicable provisions of the securities legislation of his province or territory for the particulars of these rights or consult with a legal adviser".

1.1 REMARKS OF PETER J. DEY OF THE O.S.C.

REMARKS OF PETER J. DEY
TO THE FINANCIAL POST CONFERENCE ON RISK CAPITAL IN VANCOUVER, JUNE 1, 1983

I am delighted to be able to participate in this conference on Risk Capital. Indeed, I must say that I feel relatively comfortable amongst a group of Western risk capital promoters, after what the Ontario Securities Commission has been through in the last couple of months, in the east.

My personal experience with the junior end of the market is fairly limited, but I want to assure you that the Ontario Securities Commission has a vital interest in this sector of the capital market, and particularly in the western experience with this sector.

Therefore, I hope to take back to Toronto some of the teachings from this conference.

As indicated by our moderator, the title of this panel is "Policing the Risk". In this context, I have been asked to address three issues:

1. The influence of the OSC upon the national scene of securities regulation;
2. The need for national co-operation between the Provincial Securities Commissions; and
3. Answer the question "Is there a need for a Canadian SEC?"

A conference on risk capital is a perfect context within which to address these questions.

You can probably guess that my answer to the last question is negative.

I do not believe that there is a need for a Canadian SEC. But I would like to develop the basis for this position by addressing the other two questions first, and by discussing some of the strengths of our regional system of securities regulation in Canada.

There is no doubt that the Ontario Securities Act, administered by the Ontario Securities Commission, heavily influences the national scene of securities regulation, because many of Canada's largest pools of capital are controlled in Ontario.

Access to these pools can only be had after the application of the Ontario Securities Act to the transaction, which will be used to tap the pools, is determined and satisfied.

Access can generally be had, either by a private financing made within the terms of the Ontario code of prospectus exemptions, or by a public financing made by prospectus. The code of prospectus exemptions is designed to define those circumstances where the protection afforded by a prospectus, and the consequent liabilities that flow from a prospectus, are unnecessary.

Our role in policing private financings is to ensure that they are effected within the terms of the exemptions, and that any secondary markets which develop in the privately placed securities, are developed in compliance with the Ontario Act.

On the other hand, a public financing qualified in Ontario, or a listing on The Toronto Stock Exchange, subjects the issuer to the requirements of the Ontario Securities Act on an ongoing basis.

The issuer becomes a so-called "Reporting issuer" and it therefore becomes subject to our panoply of regulation designed to develop efficient capital markets.

This commitment occurs whether or not the issuer carries on business in Ontario, and arises because the issuer seeks to have access to capital in Ontario through public financing.

This is the so-called "Sandbox Theory" of securities regulation: If you want to play in our sandbox, then you must play according to our rules.

The influence of the Ontario Act and the Ontario Securities Commission upon the national scene does not, then, occur because we in Ontario have a global view of our jurisdiction, but because issuers, based both within and outside Ontario, seek access to Ontario controlled capital.

Let me give an example of the manner in which we administer one area of our Act which is particularly relevant to the junior end of the market, and which I hope reflects both our sensitivity to the laws of the other provinces as well as Ontario's indirect influence upon this area of regulation - distributions made outside Ontario.

If an Ontario based issuer offers securities in another jurisdiction, Ontario does not require a prospectus to be qualified in Ontario, or require the issuer to find a prospectus exemption or require the issuer to seek an exemption ruling from the Ontario Securities Commission for the distribution -

Provided that reasonable steps are taken by the issuer, underwriter and other participants effecting the distribution to ensure that the offered securities come to rest outside Ontario.

The reason for this is that there are no Ontario investors participating in the offering. The jurisdiction in which the securities are being offered will have its own rules for protecting the investors within that jurisdiction.

What we are vigilant to ensure is that the other jurisdiction, which may have different regulations from those of Ontario, is not being used as a conduit into the Ontario market.

Therefore, if we obtain evidence that parties related to an issuer which is making a distribution in another province, are warehousing securities for distribution into the secondary market in Ontario, we will regard these trades as an illegal distribution and take appropriate action.

Having said that, you must also know that we are not so unrealistic as to believe that some securities issued in other jurisdictions will not eventually find their way into Ontario.

This is understood - but it has to happen naturally - without the assistance of the issuer or its market intermediaries.

Indeed, we are developing in Ontario, a monitoring system for Ontario based issuers financing outside Ontario, to assure ourselves that safeguards have been built into the legal framework for the financing so that we are satisfied that the out-of-province jurisdiction isn't being used simply as a back door to the Ontario market.

The same question arises if the Ontario based issuer does a private placement in another jurisdiction.

The private placement will have to be done in accordance with the exemptions in the other jurisdiction. And the securities will have to come to rest in the other jurisdiction.

The best evidence from our perspective that the securities have come to rest in the other jurisdiction, is to ensure that the investors have not sold into Ontario until restrictions upon resale equivalent to Ontario restrictions have been satisfied.

This is the test - otherwise, we may regard the secondary trade as an illegal distribution.

This is one example of Ontario's approach to policing the risk.

There is not sufficient time for me to discuss our legislative and administrative framework for generally policing the risk - our prospectus standards, our continuous and timely disclosure requirements, our insider trading rules, the obligations upon corporations making acquisitions in Ontario - and so on -

But I would be happy to attempt to answer any questions, or obtain answers to any queries that you have, about our Act and administration.

The topic of this panel is "Policing the Risk". I think this phrase conveys a slightly unbalanced impression of our approach to regulation in Ontario.

Indeed, investor protection is our business. But we protect investors or, police the risk, in order to create an environment where it is easier for entrepreneurs to raise capital.

When these two needs - the need for protection and the need for capital - sometimes competitive, and sometimes complementary, are out of balance, the efficiency of our market suffers.

I think I can best illustrate our approach to regulation by describing what I regard to be our responsibility as regulators in the development of the junior market.

I do not believe that the Toronto market is in direct competition with the Vancouver market in the risk capital formation process.

I have read a number of comments in which the Toronto market and Ontario regulators have been criticized because the Toronto market did not, for example, provide the capital to finance the Hemlo discovery.

To me, there is no logic in this position. It is just as logical for Ontario natural resources to be developed relying upon financing provided by capital markets both within and outside Ontario as it is for natural resource and industrial projects located outside Ontario, to be financed from capital raised in Ontario.

One of the strengths of our provincial system of regulation is that different capital markets, serving different needs, can be developed in different regions of the country.

Entrepreneurs may generally rely upon the capital formation process in Vancouver at an earlier stage in development than in Toronto. The regulation framework within which the two markets operate allows this to happen.

By the same token, the investor participating in the Vancouver market knows that as a general matter his investment may be more speculative than an investment made in the Toronto market.

The balance between the need for investor protection and the entrepreneurial need for capital, will differ from market to market.

What I think we in Ontario must continually review, are the terms upon which the Ontario Securities Act and The Toronto Stock Exchange allow access to the significant pools of capital in Ontario.

This access must be available to entrepreneurs and investors on reasonable terms. We, as regulators, must be continually assured that the listing requirements and the requirements for financing through The Toronto Stock Exchange are reasonable.

That is, on the one hand, that the requirements are not so lax as to jeopardize legitimate investor expectations for other investments in the Toronto market, and on the other hand, that the requirements are not so stringent as to unreasonably deny entrepreneurs and investors alike, the opportunity to participate in the capital formation process as it applies to natural resource and industrial issuers at early stages of development.

As part of this mandate, you are aware of the policy adopted by The Toronto Stock Exchange, with the approval of the Ontario Securities Commission, in March of this year, regarding distributions through the facilities of the Exchange, by an exchange offering prospectus.

This policy was developed by the Exchange in co-operation with the Commission at the urging of the Exchange members, and at the urging of the Ontario Government, which is sensitive to the role of the Ontario based capital markets to the development of Ontario natural resource and industrial projects.

This policy, together with less stringent listing requirements, will allow a first-time public financing by an issuer on the floor of The Toronto Stock Exchange, and listing on the Exchange, to occur almost simultaneously.

This policy has, in effect, replaced old Ontario Policy 3.02. The market access policy represents a very significant development in the regulation of capital markets in Ontario.

It provided a revised risk/reward system for founders or promoters, with new controls on the amount of founders and new escrow terms applicable to such stock designed to make the Toronto market more accessible to the companies in the "start-up" phase.

To date, our experience with the Policy has been limited. There have been eight preliminary Exchange offering prospectuses filed, of which three relate to first-time offerings, and five relate to additional offerings of listed issuers.

At the end of this year, we will have to review the experience with the policy and, with the assistance of The Toronto Stock Exchange, make some judgement as to whether the policy is working.

If the Policy is not working, we will have to determine whether the requirements for listing and financing through the Exchange are still too stringent.

I would like to return to the question - whether or not there is a need for a Canadian SEC? - and to comment upon the importance of co-operation amongst the provincial securities commissions.

It is easy to answer this question in the negative, in the context of a discussion of risk capital formation in Canada.

As I have indicated, I believe that there is great strength in our provincial system of regulation, which enables different markets under different regulators, to develop in such a manner as to satisfy different requirements for capital throughout Canada.

I am not saying that the regional markets would not be possible under a federal SEC. But I think that these markets would be more difficult to develop with one federal regulator overseeing all markets.

Indeed, under our present system, I cannot envisage a federal SEC doing anything other than adding an unnecessary layer of regulation upon an existing system of provincial regulation -

A system of regulation which has a capacity to allow regional markets to develop -

But also a system which recognizes the importance of co-operation between jurisdictions, and the importance of its development on a national scale of a scheme of regulation which, if not uniform, must be compatible -

So that national and international transactions can be carried out on such a basis that compliance with the rules of any of the lead jurisdictions in Canada will generally satisfy the requirements of all of the other jurisdictions in Canada.

In expressing support for our existing system of Provincial regulation, I want to emphasize the challenge to all market participants, including securities regulators, to continue to work diligently to make all aspects of our national system of securities regulation function in a manner that allows efficient capital markets, both on a regional and national scale, to develop.

Although I have not discussed the junior market policy in any detail, I would be happy to try to answer questions concerning this policy and, indeed, I would be interested in any comments you may have concerning your experience in financing in the Ontario Markets.

Thank you.

1.2 NOTICE FOR THE OSC BULLETIN

NOTICE FOR THE OSC BULLETIN

Reporting Issuers are requested when filing material with the Commission pursuant to Parts XVII, XVIII, XIX AND XX dealing with financial statements, proxy solicitation material, take-over bids and insider trading to address such material to the Ontario Securities Commission, 20 Queen Street West, Toronto, Ontario, Attention: Disclosure Section.

1.3 FINANCIAL STATEMENTS - TAXABLE EQUIVALENT ADJUSTMENTS

NOTICE

Financial Statements;

Taxable Equivalent Adjustments

It appears that a number of reporting issuers provide financial information concerning investment income on a tax equivalent basis i.e., the amount of income tax that would have been payable on certain investment income, were that income not tax exempt, is added to investment income. The motive behind so doing is to make the income on tax exempt investments comparable to that on taxable investments and to generate information that will facilitate assessment of management's performance. However, the practice has not been to incorporate information prepared on such a basis into the financial statements themselves but to provide it elsewhere in the issuer's annual report. The usefulness of this information when presented outside the financial statements is not questioned.

Recently, at the request of its staff, the Ontario Securities Commission considered the case of a reporting issuer that had departed from the usual practice of providing such information outside of the financial statements and, instead, had incorporated it into the financial statements.

The Securities Act (the "Act") provides that financial information filed under section 77 of the Act shall be made up and certified as required by the regulations and in accordance with "generally accepted accounting principles".

Section 1(3) of the Regulation to the Act states,

"...for the purposes of the Act and this Regulation, where a recommendation has been made in the Handbook of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants which is applicable in the circumstances, the terms "generally accepted accounting principles", "auditor's report" and "generally accepted auditing standards" means the principles, report and standards, respectively, recommended in the Handbook."

The Commission in its review of the issuer's departure from usual practice took note of the following considerations:

1. Presentation on a tax equivalent basis is not addressed specifically in any authoritative pronouncement on Canadian accounting practices.
2. Historical accounting concerns itself with the recording and measurement of actual or anticipated transactions. Income reported on a tax equivalent basis is hypothetical income that is never actually realized by the issuer. It is income that is not recognized in conventional accounting records since it does not, of itself, result in dollar receipts.
3. It is a recognized practice that where a specific accounting method is not dealt with in the CICA Handbook, accountants turn for guidance to other authoritative pronouncements on the subject. R.M. Skinner has this to say at page 26 of his Accounting Principles - a Canadian Viewpoint about the meaning of the term "generally accepted":

"To qualify, an accounting method must meet at least one, and usually more, of the following conditions:

(a) The method will be in actual use in a significant number of cases where the circumstances are suitable.

(b) The method would have support in the pronouncements of professional accounting societies, or other authoritative bodies such as the Securities and Exchange Commission in the United States.

(c) The method would have support in the writing of a number of respected accounting teachers and thinkers."

4. At page 25 of the same study Mr. Skinner states, however, that,

"...management accounting is largely free of the constraints applicable to external reporting and need not be concerned with a rigorously defined body of accounting principles."

5. The U.S. Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) makes this distinction, at paragraph 5 of "Statement of Financial Accounting Concepts No. 1", between financial statements and financial reporting:

"Although financial reporting and financial statements have essentially the same objectives, some useful information is better provided by financial statements and some is better provided, or can only be provided, by means of financial reporting other than financial statements."

In paragraph 48 of the same release FASB goes on to state:

"...accrual accounting provides measures of earnings rather than evaluations of management's performance, estimates of "earning power", predictions of earnings, assessment of risk... Investors, creditors, and other users of the information do their own evaluating, estimating, predicting, assessing, confirming, or rejecting..."

6. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in "Accounting Series Release 254" and "Staff Accounting Bulletins, Topic 11-G" prohibits the inclusion of a taxable equivalent adjustment in financial statements as not being in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

In light of the foregoing considerations, the Commission has concluded that, in its view, the incorporation of financial information on a tax equivalent basis in financial statements and related notes is not in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. It is, therefore, not appropriate to include the adjustment in financial statements filed with the Commission.

At the same time, the Commission appreciates the benefit to be had from the provision of such information outside of the financial statements. Even then, however, the Commission is concerned about the need for some common standard of presentation and suggests that issuers might initiate discussions with the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants with a view to developing such guidelines.

2.8 ROYAL TRUSTCO LIMITED, KENNETH A. WHITE & JOHN M. SCHOLLES

On May 31, 1983, the Ontario Divisional Court issued its decision dismissing the Appeals of Kenneth Alan White and John Merton Scholes from the decision of the Ontario Securities Commission dated October 8, 1983. The reasons for the decision of the Divisional Court are reproduced below. The time for seeking leave to appeal from this decision has now expired without any such application having been initiated.

In its decision, the Commission ordered that the trading privileges of Mr. White and Mr. Scholes be suspended for 60 and 30 days respectively. Pending the appeal, the Commission granted an Order staying the aforementioned suspensions. By its terms, this stay expired 10 days after the disposition of the appeal by the Divisional Court. Accordingly, the suspensions of the trading privilege of Mr. White and Mr. Scholes took effect on June 10, 1983.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF ONTARIO

DIVISIONAL COURT

REID, KREVER and CRAIG, JJ.

IN THE MATTER OF the Securities
Act, 1978, Chapter 47, as amended;
and

IN THE MATTER OF Royal Trustco
Limited, Kenneth Alan White and John Merton Scholes.

B E T W E E N:

Royal Trustco Limited,
Kenneth Alan White and John Merton Scholes.

Appellants.

-and-

THE ONTARIO SECURITIES
COMMISSION.

Respondent.

REID J.

Kenneth Alan White (White) and John Merton Scholes (Scholes) appeal from an order of the respondent (the Commission) depriving them of the exemptions to which they were otherwise entitled under s. 34(1) of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, c. 466 (the Act), for periods respectively of sixty and thirty consecutive days. The relevant exemptions are those which permit an individual to engage in isolated trades of securities and other security transactions common to private individuals without registration.

The order stemmed from an abortive take-over bid which Campeau Corporation (Campeau) made on August 29, 1980, for all of the common and convertible preferred shares of Royal Trustco Limited (Trustco), the publicly traded parent holding company of the Royal Trust group of companies.

The Board of Directors of Trustco opposed the bid with resolution and vigour. White was Chairman, President, Chief Executive Officer and a director of Trustco.

Scholes was Senior Executive Vice-President, Chief Operating Officer and a director.

In response to the bid, the Trustco directors sent to shareholders a Directors' circular on 8 September 1980.

The termination date of the bid was 19 September but the bid was amended on that date and a new termination date was set for 2 Oct. In response to the amended bid a letter was sent to shareholders over White's signature on 22 September.

The events following the announcement of the bid were widely reported in the media. They were monitored by the Commission's staff. The Commission ordered an investigation pursuant to s.11 of the Act. On receipt of its investigator's report the Commission sent it with recommendations to the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations in accordance with s.12 of the Act. The Commission gave instructions for a hearing to be convened under s.124(2) of the Act to consider withdrawing the trading privileges of White and Scholes. Specific allegations were set out in a Notice of Hearing dated 25 November 1980, prepared by Commission staff and served on White and Scholes. The notice contained nine allegations following an introductory paragraph which read,

TAKE NOTICE that the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") will hold a hearing ... to consider whether, in the public interest, it should order pursuant to Section 124(1) of the Act that any or all of the exemptions contained in Sections 34 and 88 of the Act do not apply, or upon what terms and conditions such exemptions should continue to apply, to ROYAL TRUSTCO LIMITED ("Royal Trustco"), KENNETH ALAN WHITE ("White") and JOHN MERTON SCHOLES ("Scholes"), by reason of the following allegations:

The allegations read:

1. Royal Trustco is a reporting issuer with its registered head office in Ottawa, Ontario, and its executive office in Toronto, Ontario. White was at all material times the Chairman of the Board, President, Chief Executive Officer and a director of Royal Trustco. Scholes was at all material times Senior Executive Vice-President, Chief Operating Officer and, from September 1, 1980, a director of Royal Trustco.

2. On or about August 29, 1980, Campeau Corporation made a take-over bid (the "Bid") for the Class A and Class B Common Shares and Series A and Series B Preferred Shares of Royal Trustco at the price of $21.00 for each common share and $29.93 for each preferred share.

3. Subsequent to the public announcement of the Bid on August 27, 1980, Royal Trustco, White and Scholes set out to defeat the Bid by:

- (a) inducing or attempting to induce, either directly or indirectly, various persons and companies to, inter alia:
 - (i) purchase shares of Royal Trustco in the open market during the currency of the Bid and not tender such shares pursuant to the Bid; and
 - (ii) hold shares of Royal Trustco then in their possession and not tender such shares pursuant to the Bid; and
 - (iii) make a competing take-over bid; and
- (b) causing shares of Royal Trustco to be purchased for the benefit of the Royal Trust Company Pension Fund.

4. On or about the 5th day of September, 1980, the Directors of Royal Trustco approved a Directors' Circular to be sent to the shareholders of Royal Trustco, which Directors' Circular, to the knowledge of White and Scholes, did not sufficiently disclose the information prescribed by Form 32 of the Regulation under the Act, as required by Section 165 of that Regulation, in that the Circular failed to disclose fully:

- (a) the nature and extent of the actions being taken by Royal Trustco management to oppose the Bid, and
- (b) the fact that after encouragement by Royal Trustco management, certain persons or companies had purchased shares of Royal Trustco with the intention of not tendering such shares pursuant to the Bid or were holding shares of Royal Trustco then in their possession with the intention of not tendering such shares pursuant to the Bid.

5. White, as Chief Executive Officer of Royal Trustco, signed the certificate in the Directors' Circular at a time when he knew or ought to have known that the said Directors' Circular was deficient as set out in paragraph 4 hereof.

6. On or about September 17, 1980, White and Scholes, both being in a special relationship with Royal Trustco, met with certain personnel of The Toronto-Dominion Bank and revealed to them, other than in the necessary course of business, certain material facts in relation to the affairs of Royal Trustco which had not been generally disclosed, including the following:

- (a) that approximately 60% of the shares of Royal Trustco were owned by persons or companies who White and Scholes knew or had reason to believe would not tender pursuant to the Bid, some or all of whom were named or otherwise identified, and
- (b) that Royal Trustco management was considering recommending to the Board that the dividends payable on Royal Trustco shares be increased.

7. On or about September 19, 1980, Campeau Corporation increased the offering price of the Bid to $23.00 for each Class A or Class B Common Share and $32.78 for each Series A or Series B Preferred Share.

8. In response to the said increase in the offering price, Royal Trustco and White caused a letter dated September 22, 1980 to be sent to the shareholders of Royal Trustco, which letter constituted a Directors' Circular that did not comply with Section 165 of the Regulation under the Act, and was further deficient in that it failed to fully disclose the facts set out in subparagraphs (a) and (b) of paragraph 4 and subparagraphs (a) and (b) of paragraph 6 hereof.

9. As a result of the foregoing allegations, shareholders of Royal Trustco were deprived of sufficient information upon which to base their investment decision whether to hold their shares, sell them on the open market or tender them pursuant to the Bid.

The hearing appears to have taken four days. The evidence of eighteen witnesses was heard resulting in a transcript of evidence of 670 pages. Twenty-one documents were filed. Neither White nor Scholes testified.

The Commission's decision, including the separate reasons of Commissioners Thom and Miles, comprised thirty-eight pages. After giving its decision the Commission entertained submissions on penalty. We are told those were lengthy. On 8 October the Commission made the order under appeal. The appeal to this court was launched on 15 October. On that day the Commission made a further order staying its order of the 8th; and providing for the withdrawal of exemptions to take effect 10 days following the dismissal or abandonment of the appeal.

This appeal comes to the Court under s.9 of the Act. The powers of the Court are very broad. They are set out in s.9(5) as follows,

(5) Where an appeal is taken under this section, the court may by its order direct the Commission to make such decision or to do such other act as the Commission is authorized and empowered to do under this Act or the regulations and as the Court considers proper, having regard to the material and submissions before it and to this Act and the regulations, and the Commission shall make such decision or do such act accordingly.

The order that applicants request this court to make is to set aside the order in appeal. Cast in terms of s.9(5) that would amount to this court requiring the Commission to reverse its decision.

I have mentioned that there were three separate sets of reasons given. The first set was signed by Commissioners Knowles, Bray, Morgan, Simonton, and Webster. Mr.

Thom's reasons were styled "Reasons For Concurring Decision Of Commissioner Stuart Thom, Q.C.". Mr. Miles' reasons were styled "Reasons For Dissenting Decision of Commissioner E. Stuart Miles".

I have described the reasons in this detail because one of the grounds urged by the appellants turned on the use of the term "majority" as used in the first set of reasons.

That set of reasons discloses that the Commissioners were unanimous in deciding that no order should be made against Trustco. Immediately after that statement occurs the following:

Conclusions

All of the members of the Commission panel, excepting Commissioner Miles, are of the view that Messrs. White and Scholes failed in their responsibility to make disclosure of material facts required to be disclosed by the Act and the Regulations. In addition the panel, again excepting Commissioner Miles, are of the view that Messrs. White and Scholes behaved improperly in providing some of the facts to the T.D. officers that they had failed to disclose to investors generally, information important to all shareholders in making the decision as to whether to tender to the Campeau bid or to sell or retain their shares. On the information in the possession of White and Scholes the Campeau bid from the earliest days was doomed to failure. The only difference between majority members of the panel is whether the Directors' Circular of September 8 was misleading by what it omitted, as at the date of making, or whether the position firmed up subsequently with the result that the White letter of September 22, in the light of the then known facts, was misleading.

Appellants submit that those words, read in the light of other passages, indicate that at least two of the group of five who signed the first set of reasons did not find that the Directors' Circular of September 8 was misleading. That reading confines the word "majority", in the phrase "majority members of the panel", to the group of five. Thus, since Commissioners Thom and Miles found that sufficient disclosure had been made in the September 8 Circular, the submission is that at least four of the seven commissioners found the allegation of insufficient disclosure in that Circular (allegation #4) not to have been established. Thus, no order should have been made based on a finding that the allegation had been made out.

The difficulty with that submission is to gauge its weight even if correct. Nine specific allegations were made in the Notice of Hearing. One of those, #6(b), was held by all commissioners not to have been made out. It has been seen that, in respect of another allegation, #4, the commissioners divided. All commissioners except Mr. Miles held specifically that allegation #6(a) (referred to throughout these proceedings as "tipping") had been made out. Beyond that, it is not possible to say what other allegations the commissioners considered had been, or had not been, established. The "suspension" order of 8 October does not refer expressly to any allegation. It says merely that having heard the evidence and counsel's submissions, and having "formed the opinion that the making of this order is in the public interest" the Commission ordered that the exemptions should not apply (as described above) and that "no sanction shall be imposed against Royal Trustco". The order was signed by all commissioners except Mr. Miles.

It is therefore difficult to say what would be the significance of this court's accepting that allegation #4 had not been established. Even if that were the clear meaning of the commissioner's reasons, read as a whole, the question would arise whether that would affect the validity of the Commission's order or the penalty that it imposed, if there appeared to be other grounds upon which the order may properly stand.

That question requires consideration of the other grounds on which the Commission's order was attacked.

They may conveniently be summed up under two heads: one, that the Commission erred in finding that the tipping allegation had been established, and two, that no breach of duty could properly have been found to have occurred in respect of the letter to shareholders of 22 September, either in law or on the facts.

We accept that the reasons given by the Commissioners might in some respects be equivocal. Yet two facts are clear. The first is that respondents made a disclosure to officers of the Toronto-Dominion Bank on September 17th. of information that was not disclosed to other shareholders. The second is that the penalty imposed upon the respondents was a very light one.

Thus, whether any allegation was made out other than that of "tipping" I am unable to say that the penalties should be lighter than those imposed. In my opinion, the tipping allegation was established, if not in the exact terms of 6(a) in terms that were reasonably like them, like enough to dispose of any suggestion that the notice was not sufficiently clear or that respondents suffered any denial of natural justice because of any discrepancy between the notice and the evidence, or the notice, the evidence and the finding.

Section 75(1)(b) of the Act reads:

75.(1) No person or company in a special relationship with a reporting issuer shall,

- (b) inform, other than in the necessary course of business, another person or company about a fact or change which he knows is a material fact or material change before the material fact or material change has been generally disclosed.

There is no question that s.75(1) of the Act is intended to prevent disclosure by persons in the position of White and Scholes of material facts before they have been generally disclosed. In my opinion, the information disclosed fell easily within the category of material facts within the context of the legislation and in the prevailing circumstances. That the respondents could not guarantee that the known holders of Trusco's shares would not sell or deposit their shares does not reduce the disclosure to a level less than fact. It was made clearly to encourage the officers of the bank not to sell or deposit the 10% of the outstanding shares of Trustco that it had acquired after earlier representations to it by White and Scholes and it achieved that purpose. Having in mind the general object of s.75, which is to prevent improper or unfair disclosure, I do not think the term "fact" should be read super-critically. In my opinion, the information was sufficiently factual or a sufficient alteration of circumstances to be a material "change" to fall within the section. In my opinion the Commission was justified in holding that the section had been breached.

Once it is accepted that a disclosure was made to some shareholders but not to others contrary to the Act it is better, in my opinion, to leave its significance to the Commission than to this Court. In saying that, I do not deny the scope of our powers. I seek merely to call attention to the fact that the regulation of the securities industry is the function of the Commission, not of the Court, and unless the Commission can be shown to have been seriously in error in law or fact this Court should be slow to intervene. There is no question in my mind that the evidence amply supported a finding that allegation 6(a) had been established. In my opinion, the Commission would have been justified in imposing the penalties it chose had that allegation alone been established.

I am far from believing that "the gentlemen in Whitehall are always right" but in this case I can find no error, after an exhausting analysis that was a tribute to the resourcefulness and assiduity of counsel, that would justify any intervention by this Court.

The appeal should be dismissed with costs.

NOTICE OF HEARING
(Sections 26 and 124)

TAKE NOTICE that the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") will convene a hearing commencing at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon on Monday, June 20, 1983, or so soon thereafter as the hearing can be held, in the Harry S. Bray Hearing Room, 18th Floor, 20 Queen Street West, Toronto, to consider

- (a) pursuant to section 26 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, c. 466 (the "Act"), whether it is in the public interest to suspend, cancel, restrict or impose terms and conditions upon the registration of The Toronto-Dominion Bank (the "Bank") as a Securities Dealer-Type II Bank under the Act and the regulations thereunder, and
- (b) pursuant to section 124 of the Act, whether it is in the public interest to order, subject to such terms and conditions, if any, as the Commission may impose, that any or all of the exemptions contained in section 34 of the Act do not apply to the Bank,

by reason of the following allegations:

1. The Bank is a bank to which the Bank Act (Canada) applies.

2. The Bank is registered under the Act and the regulations thereunder as a Securities Dealer-Type II Bank.
3. The Bank is proposing to establish a discount brokerage business through the institution of a service to be known as the "TD Green Line Investor Service" ("Green Line").
4. Through Green Line the Bank proposes to make available to investors the opportunity to take advantage of reduced commission rates resulting from the abolition of fixed commissions through a special TD "Stock 'N' Trade Account" providing (i) monthly up-dates on cash flow activity and balances, (ii) safekeeping services, (iii) portfolio evaluation reports and (iv) detailed monthly trading activity reports, plus daily interest on credit balances. The Bank proposes to advertise Green Line broadly and to solicit applications for Stock 'N' Trade Accounts from its customers and shareholders and from the public at large. After an application form is completed by an applicant and approved and accepted by the Bank and the "Stock 'N' Trade Account" opened, buy and sell orders for securities will be placed by the customer by telephoning on a toll-free line a Green Line Investor Service Client Representative at the Bank's head office who will in turn direct the orders to a registered broker.
5. The Bank prepared and printed brochures describing Green Line which it proposes to make available through its branches and to mail to its customers and shareholders. In April 1983, without the approval of the Director of the Commission, the Bank caused such brochures to be mailed to shareholders of the Bank.
6. The advertising of Green Line, the solicitation of Stock 'N' Trade Accounts by the Bank, and the operation of Green Line in accordance with the description contained in the brochures prepared and printed by it contravenes the terms of the Type II Registration of the Bank as a Securities Dealer.
7. The advertising of Green Line and the solicitation of Stock 'N' Trade Accounts by the Bank constitute the solicitation of orders to purchase and sell securities, thereby placing the Bank's activities beyond the scope of the exemption from the registration requirements of the Act contained in paragraph 34(1)11 of the Act.

8. In operating Green Line in accordance with the description contained in the brochures prepared and printed by it, the Bank will be unable to comply with the requirements of subsection 102(4) of the regulations under the Act, and full and proper compliance by the Bank with such requirements would be beyond the scope of its permitted business under the Bank Act (Canada).
9. It will be detrimental to Ontario securities markets and the participants in such markets if the Bank is permitted to offer the services associated with Green Line to members of the public in Ontario or to advertise such services or solicit applications for Stock 'N' Trade Accounts.
10. It is not in the public interest for the Bank to be permitted to advertise or provide the services associated with Green Line to members of the public in Ontario.

AND TAKE NOTICE that any party to the proceedings may be represented by counsel of his choice at the hearing if he attends or submits evidence thereat.

AND TAKE NOTICE that upon failure of any party to attend at the time and place aforesaid, the hearing may proceed in his absence and he is not entitled to any further notice in the proceedings.

2.16 ARLEN REALTY & DEVELOPMENT CORP.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT,
R.S.O. 1980, CHAPTER 466

AND

IN THE MATTER OF ARLEN REALTY & DEVELOPMENT CORP.

RULING
(Section 73)

UPON the application of Arlen Realty & Development Corp. ("Arlen") to the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") for a ruling pursuant to section 73 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, C. 466 (the "Act") in respect to the issue of and first trades in shares of the common stock of Arlen ("Common Stock") to be issued in exchange for its outstanding 5% Convertible Subordinated Debentures due June 1, 1986 ("5% Debentures") and its Zero Coupon Convertible Subordinated Debentures due June 1, 1989 ("Zero Debentures");

AND UPON it appearing to the Commission that:

1. Arlen is a company incorporated under the laws of New York.
2. Arlen is not a reporting issuer under the Act, and there is no market for its securities in Ontario;
3. The 5% Debentures and the Common Stock into which the 5% Debentures and the Zero Debentures are convertible are listed on The New York Stock Exchange. Application will be made to list the Common Stock to be issued pursuant to the Exchange Offer (as hereinafter defined) on The New York Stock Exchange; however, Arlen is not now and has not been for several years in compliance with the listing requirements of that Exchange. The Zero Debentures trade irregularly on the over-the-counter market in the United States;
4. Arlen has made an offer (the "Exchange Offer") to holders of its 5% Debentures and Zero Debentures who are resident in the United States of America to issue its Common Stock in exchange for such Debentures on the basis of 95 shares of Common Stock for each $100 face amount of 5% Debentures and 100 shares of Common Stock for each $100 face amount of Zero Debentures;
5. The Exchange Offer was made on May 2, 1983 by way of an offering circular dated May 3, 1983 (the "Offering Circular"), and expires on May 23, 1983;
6. The Exchange Offer has been made by Arlen in reliance on the exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act 1933 afforded by section 3(a)(9) thereof;
7. Arlen presently has a working capital deficiency, and its audited statements, as of February 28, 1982, which appear in the Offering Circular, are qualified. The purpose of the Exchange Offer is to eliminate the payment of interest and amortization on Arlen's subordinated indebtedness;

8. As of March 17, 1983 there were two holders of record of 5% Debentures in the aggregate principal amount of U.S. $5,500.00 resident in Ontario, and one holder of record of Zero Debentures in the principal amount of U.S. $5,000.00 resident in Ontario;

AND UPON being of the view that to so rule would not be prejudicial to the public interest;

NOW THEREFORE, it is ruled that the issue of Common Stock of Arlen to holders of its 5% Debentures and its Zero Debentures who are resident in Ontario in exchange for such Debentures is not subject to section 24 or 52 of the Act, provided that:

1. The issue is pursuant to an extension of the Exchange Offer described in the Offering Circular;
2. Arlen shall deliver to Ontario resident holders of the 5% Debentures and the Zero Debentures prior to the issue of Common Stock to such holders;
 - (a) the same material that has been delivered to U.S. resident holders of the Debentures in connection with the Exchange Offer, expressly including the Offering Circular;
 - (b) additional explanatory material:
 - (i) prominently stating that the tax consequences to Ontario residents accepting the Exchange Offer or an extension thereof will differ from the tax consequences to residents of the United States and recommending that Ontario residents consult their own tax advisors;
 - (ii) setting out the procedure for Ontario residents for tendering their Debentures;
 - (iii) prominently setting forth in layman's terms the restrictions on the resale of the Common Stock of Arlen received by them pursuant to the Exchange Offer or an extension thereof that are set forth in paragraph 3 of this Ruling;
3. The first trades by Ontario residents of the Common Stock of Arlen acquired by them pursuant to the Exchange Offer or an extension thereof may be made only through the facilities of The New York Stock Exchange.

CHAPTER 1

NOTICES

1.1 TURBO RESOURCES LIMITED & BANKENO MINES LIMITED

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT,
R.S.O. 1980, CHAPTER 466 (the "Act")

AND

IN THE MATTER OF TURBO RESOURCES LIMITED AND BANKENO MINES LIMITED

NOTICE OF HEARING

TAKE NOTICE that the hearing of this matter, which was adjourned on Thursday, May 26, 1983, will take place at the offices of the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") on the 18th Floor, 20 Queen Street West, Toronto on Tuesday, the 12th day of July, 1983 at the hour of 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon or so soon thereafter as the hearing can be continued;

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that upon the return date set out herein, the Commission will consider, pursuant to section 123 of the Act, whether it is in the public interest that, pending any further Order of the Commission, the controlling blocks of shares of Merland Explorations Limited and Bankeno Mines Limited referred to in the Order of the Commission dated March 22, 1983 (the "Temporary Order"), should not be traded;

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that the Commission in its consideration of the public interest under section 123 of the Act, will consider the following allegations:

1. Turbo Resources Limited ("Turbo") is a company incorporated under the laws of Alberta and is a reporting issuer within the meaning of section 1 (1)38 of the Act. Its common shares are listed on the Alberta, Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchanges;
2. Bankeno Mines Limited ("Bankeno") is a company incorporated under the laws of Ontario, has its shares listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange, and is a reporting issuer within the meaning of section 1(1)38 of the Act. As more particularly referred to hereinafter, Bankeno was, at all material times, controlled by Turbo. As at

December 31, 1981, approximately 72% of the issued and outstanding common shares of Bankeno were held by Turbo;

3. On June 24, 1981 Turbo agreed to purchase from Compass of Canada Limited ("Compass") all of the 5,074,482 common shares of Merland Explorations Limited ("Merland") owned, beneficially and indirectly, by Compass at a cash purchase price equal to $13.13 per share;
4. By a stock exchange take-over bid (the "TSE Bid") dated June 26, 1981, Turbo offered to purchase through the facilities of the Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchanges 5,000,000 common shares of Merland at a price of $13 1/8 (net of commissions) per share. The TSE Bid was a take-over bid within the meaning of the Act;
5. Financing for the private agreement and the TSE Bid was provided to Turbo by the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce (the "C.I.B.C."). In the offer to the Merland minority shareholders issued by Turbo at the time of the TSE Bid, Turbo stated that a $70,000,000 line of credit had been arranged with the C.I.B.C. and that the purpose of the TSE Bid was to seek effective control of Merland. The document also stated that, to its knowledge, no person or company other than Merland Holdings Ltd. exercised control over more than 10% of the voting securities of Merland;
6. On July 8, 1981, Turbo amended the terms of TSE Bid by the issuance of a Notice stating that Turbo would, in effect, propose a transaction pursuant to which shareholders of Merland would have the opportunity to receive on or before December 29, 1981 a consideration at least equal in value to $13 1/8 (net of commissions) per common share of Merland, subject only to any decision of the Commission made upon application by Turbo following a public hearing due notice of which would be given to Merland minority shareholders;
7. On July 10, 1981, a hearing was held before the Commission, convened upon the application of Merland, to consider whether the Commission should exercise certain of its powers under the Act to prevent Merland shares from being taken up under the TSE Bid on the grounds that the TSE Bid was an illegal take-over bid. In the course of this hearing, Turbo clearly, categorically and repeatedly gave its undertaking to complete a follow-up offer to Merland shareholders on or before December 29, 1981, subject only to any decision of the Commission. Turbo also stated that it attorned to the jurisdiction of Ontario for the purposes of section 91(1) of the Act;
8. In reliance upon Turbo's undertaking and attornment as described in paragraph 7 above, the Commission declined Merland's request and permitted the TSE Bid to proceed;
9. By application dated December 10, 1981, as supplemented on December 18, 1981, Turbo applied for an order of the Commission extending the time within which Turbo was obliged to complete its follow-up offer to Merland shareholders;
10. After completion of a public hearing on December 21, 1981 relating to the application of Turbo referred to in paragraph 9 above, the Commission made an order extending the date before which the follow-up had to be completed, provided that Turbo completed a follow-up bid in accordance with section 91(1) of the Act on or before February 26, 1982;

11. In the interval between July 10, 1981 and December 21, 1981 Turbo made a series of public statements confirming its obligation to complete a follow-up offer to Merland shareholders at a consideration at least equal in value to $13 1/8 per common share of Merland;
12. On January 26, 1982 Turbo and Bankeno announced the terms of and Bankeno made a take-over bid (the "Bankeno Bid") upon the terms and conditions set forth in its take-over bid and take-over bid circular (the "Bankeno Circular"). The Bankeno Circular stated that Bankeno had been advised by Turbo that the Bankeno Bid satisfied the follow-up offer obligation of Turbo to Merland shareholders;
13. The Bankeno Bid was one of a series of transactions arranged in concert between Turbo and Bankeno whereby Turbo transferred to Bankeno the Merland control block, and substantial oil and gas assets, and increased its control position in Bankeno. Concurrent with these transactions the C.I.B.C. released its security in relation to Turbo's control position in Merland. At the time when these transactions were approved Messrs. Brawn, Maxwell and Traviss participated in and formed a majority of those in attendance at all material Bankeno directors' meetings. At the same time, Messrs. Brawn, Traviss and Maxwell were directors of Turbo and Brawn and Traviss were substantial shareholders of Turbo;
14. On February 2, 1982 the Commission announced that it would hold a public hearing on February 15, 1982 pursuant to the applications of certain shareholders of Merland, to decide whether the consideration being offered to shareholders of Merland under the Bankeno Bid was, or was not, at least equal in value to $13 1/8 per common share of Merland;
15. On February 15 and 16, 1982, the Commission conducted a hearing to determine whether the consideration offered by the Bankeno Bid was equivalent to the $13 1/8 paid per common share of Merland in July, 1981;
16. The aforementioned hearing was interrupted by an ex parte interim Order of Prohibition, dated February 16, 1982, secured at the instance of Turbo and Bankeno. An application by Turbo and Bankeno to continue this Order was dismissed by The Honourable Madam Justice Van Camp on February 18, 1982;
17. Thereafter, the Commission resumed its hearing regarding the value of the consideration and on February 19, 1982 announced its decision that that consideration was not equivalent to the $13 1/8 paid for Merland shares purchased in July, 1981;
18. On March 1, 1982, Turbo and Bankeno announced the terms of an amended bid (the "second Bankeno Bid"). Messrs. Brawn, Maxwell and Traviss were the directors who approved this Bid on behalf of Bankeno;
19. On March 9, 1982, the Commission convened a further hearing to consider the terms of the second Bankeno Bid. On March 10, 1982, the Commission announced its decision that the second Bankeno Bid did not satisfy Turbo's obligations;

20. On March 16, 1982, the Commission sought and obtained from the Supreme Court of Ontario a compliance Order under Section 122 of the Act requiring Turbo to:

"...forthwith comply with the decisions of the Ontario Securities Commission requiring Turbo Resources Limited to effect, or cause to be effected, a transaction, whether by way of a take-over bid to the holders resident in Canada of the remaining convertible preferred shares and common shares of Merland Explorations Limited or in some other manner, which will provide to the holders resident in Canada of such convertible preferred shares and common shares of Merland Explorations Limited at the time of such transaction the opportunity to receive a consideration per common share of Merland Explorations Limited (as constituted on the 8th day of July, 1981) at least equal in value to the $13 1/8 (net of commissions) paid per common share in accordance with the Stock Exchange Bid of Turbo Resources Limited dated June 26, 1981 as clarified July 8, 1981."

21. On June 17, 1982, Turbo and Bankeno sought an extension of time for seeking leave to appeal from the decision of Madam Justice Van Camp. On June 21, 1982, the Honourable Mr. Justice MacKinnon dismissed this application with costs against Turbo and Bankeno;
22. In addition, Turbo and Bankeno initiated a series of appeals and applications for Judicial Review in relation to the July proceedings, the two valuation hearings, and the compliance Order. These appeals and applications were consolidated and heard by the Divisional Court on July 7, 8, 9, & 12, 1982;
23. On July 9 and 12, 1982, the Divisional Court gave reasons for its decision in relation to all of these matters, and held, inter alia, that the compliance Order was proper and dismissed the appeal from that Order;
24. On September 20, 1982, Turbo and Bankeno sought leave to appeal to the Ontario Court of Appeal from the decision of the Divisional Court. This application was dismissed with costs against Turbo and Bankeno;
25. Throughout the foregoing period, Turbo and Bankeno were acting in concert with the purpose, inter alia, of avoiding or evading the jurisdiction of the Commission and of undermining the enforceability of the terms of TSE Bid and the commitment given to the Commission in the July hearing;
26. In addition to the various proceedings referred to above, Turbo conducted negotiations with, inter alia, the C.I.B.C. to restructure its debt in a manner which would have further impaired Turbo's ability to meet its lawful obligations and which would have made it impossible for the obligations to the Merland minority to be fulfilled. Messrs. Brawn, Maxwell and Traviss participated in and agreed to these arrangements and, as appears from the Minutes of a Directors meeting of Turbo held on June 12, 1982, Turbo would have proceeded with such a refinancing but for the concern of Turbo's directors regarding their personal liability under Ontario law;

27. Turbo and Bankeno are continuing to negotiate with the C.I.B.C. and others regarding various refinancing arrangements, the effect of which may make it impossible to fulfill the obligations to the Merland minority shareholders. To date, no satisfactory arrangements have been made to fulfill the obligations to the Merland minority shareholders.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that the staff of the Commission will urge that, in the circumstances aforesaid, it is in the public interest that the Temporary Order should be made permanent pursuant to section 123 of the Act, subject to any subsequent Order under section 140 of the Act.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that any party to the proceedings may be represented by counsel of its choice at the hearing if such party attends or submits evidence thereat;

AND TAKE NOTICE that upon failure of any party to attend at the time and place aforesaid, the hearing may proceed in its absence and such party is not entitled to any further notice in the proceedings.

DATED at Toronto, this 30th day of June, 1983.

(Section 73)

UPON the application of counsel on behalf of Goldcorp Investments Limited ("Goldcorp") to the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") for a ruling pursuant to section 73 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, c.466 (the "Act") in respect of certain trades in Class A Share Purchase Warrants Series II ("Series II Warrants");

AND WHEREAS counsel to Goldcorp has represented to the Commission that:

- I Goldcorp has filed with the Commission a preliminary prospectus dated May 3, 1983 offering for sale units, each consisting of one Class A Participating Partially Voting Share (a "Class A Share") and one Class A Share Purchase Warrant, Series I (a "Series I Warrant");
- II Each Series I Warrant will entitle the holder, upon payment of an exercise price of $10.00, to purchase one Class A Share and to receive one Series II Warrant;
- III Each Series II Warrant will entitle the holder, upon payment of an exercise price of $12.50, to purchase one Class A Share; and
- IV Goldcorp has made application to list and post the Class A Shares and Series I Warrants for trading on The Toronto Stock Exchange, which application has been approved, subject to the normal requirements of The Toronto Stock Exchange, including satisfactory distribution; and
- V Goldcorp intends to make application to list and post the Series II Warrants for trading on The Toronto Stock Exchange as soon as the required public distribution of the Series II Warrants has been achieved;

AND UPON the Commission being satisfied that to so rule would not be prejudicial to the public interest;

NOW THEREFORE IT IS RULED pursuant to section 73 of the Act that notwithstanding subsection 5 of section 71 of the Act, the first trades in Series II Warrants acquired by a vendor upon the exercise of Series I Warrants shall not be subject to section 52 of the Act, subject to the following terms and conditions:

1. The Class A Shares and the Series I Warrants are listed and posted for trading on a stock exchange recognized for this purpose by the Commission at the time of a first trade in the Series II Warrants;

2. If, when the Series II Warrants were acquired upon the exercise of Series I Warrants by the vendor, the aggregate of the number of Class A Shares, Series I Warrants and Series II Warrants owned by the vendor and all vendor-related parties exceeded, in the aggregate, 5 percent of the total number of the outstanding Class A Shares, such Series II Warrants have been held by the vendor for at least sixty days following the date upon which the vendor has filed with the Commission, Goldcorp and each stock exchange upon which there were then listed and posted securities of any class or kind of Goldcorp, a notice disclosing:
 - (a) the fact of the issuance of the Series II Warrants upon the exercise of the Series I Warrants and the particulars thereof, and
 - (b) the date upon which the vendor then proposed to make a trade in such Series II Warrants pursuant to this ruling, or, if the vendor did not then propose to make a trade, a statement to that effect;
3. For the purposes of this ruling, "vendor-related parties" means the associates and affiliates of the vendor and all persons and companies with whom the vendor at the time that the Series II Warrants were acquired by the vendor upon the exercise of Series I Warrants intended to act in concert in making trades in securities of any class or kind of Goldcorp, other than any registrant engaged on the usual terms solely for the purpose of making such trades;
4. Goldcorp makes application for the listing of the Series II Warrants on a recognized stock exchange forthwith upon the satisfaction of distribution and other requirements of such exchange;
5. Such a first trade is not a distribution as defined in subparagraph iii of paragraph 11 of subsection 1(1) of the Act;
6. No effort is made to prepare the market or create a demand for such Series II Warrants and no extraordinary commission or consideration is paid in respect of such trade;
7. For the purpose of paragraphs 1, 4 and 8 of this ruling, the Commission recognizes The Toronto Stock Exchange; and
8. This ruling shall expire on the earlier of the date on which the Series II Warrants are listed and posted for trading on a recognized stock exchange and the first anniversary of the date of the Commission's final receipt for the prospectus of Goldcorp offering the Class A Shares and Series I Warrants to the public.

2.3 REED MONAHAN NICHOLISHEN INVESTMENT COUNSEL INC.

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT,
R.S.O. 1980, CHAPTER 466

AND

IN THE MATTER OF REED MONAHAN NICHOLISHEN
INVESTMENT COUNSEL INC.

AND

IN THE MATTER OF THE RMN TRUST

RULING
(Section 73)

UPON the application by Reed Monahan Nicholishen Investment Counsel Inc., (the "Applicant") to the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") for a ruling pursuant to Section 73 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, c. 466 (the "Act");

AND UPON reading the application, the material filed therewith and the recommendation of Commission staff;

AND UPON it appearing to the Commission that:

1. The Applicant is registered under the Act as an adviser in the categories of investment counsel and portfolio manager and such registration is in good standing;
2. The Applicant has established two pooled funds, the Canadian Fund and the Foreign Fund (the "Funds"), governed by a trust (the "RMN Trust") under an agreement with National Trust Company, Limited as trustee (the "Trustee"), pursuant to a declaration of trust made as of February 1, 1983 (the "Declaration of Trust");
3. The monies invested by a participant (a "Participant") may be allocated all to the Canadian Fund or all to the Foreign Fund or may be allocated between the Canadian Fund and the Foreign Fund on the direction of such Participant in accordance with the Declaration of Trust;
4. The investment portfolio of each Fund is required to comply with the restrictions contained in the Pension Benefits Standards Act (Canada) and in Section 17 of Ontario Regulation 746 under the Pension Benefits Act (Ontario);
5. The assets of the Canadian Fund will be invested in prescribed investments within the meaning of the Income Tax Act (Canada) in respect of registered retirement savings plans, registered home ownership savings plans, registered retirement income funds and deferred profit sharing plans;
6. A Participant may elect to receive its proportionate share of the net income and capital gains of each Fund in cash, but if a Participant does not so elect, the proportionate share of such Participant in a Fund will be reinvested in that Fund;

Except for the acquisition of additional units by a Participant as the result of the reinvestment of a Participant's share of net income or capital gains of a Fund, no Participant may acquire additional units of the Funds at an acquisition cost of less than $97,000, unless at the time of the subsequent acquisition such Participant holds units of either or both of the Funds which collectively have either an aggregate acquisition cost or an aggregate net asset value of $100,000;
9. The securities in which the Funds invest will be at all times held in trust by a trust company duly licenced and authorized to carry on business in Ontario;
10. Units in the Funds will be offered only through the Applicant;

AND UPON being satisfied that to so rule would not be prejudicial to the public interest;

NOW THEREFORE it is ruled pursuant to section 73 of the Act that trades by the Applicant in units of the Funds (including trades resulting from the redemption of units and trades resulting from the issue of units by way of reinvestment of net income or capital gains of a Fund) are not subject to sections 24 or 52 of the Act on condition that each of the recitals to this Ruling is and remains true and accurate.

2.4 THE OPTIONS CLEARING CORPORATION

IN THE MATTER OF THE SECURITIES ACT,
R.S.O. 1980, CHAPTER 466

AND

IN THE MATTER OF THE OPTIONS CLEARING CORPORATION

RULING
(Section 73)

UPON the application of The Options Clearing Corporation ("OCC") to the Ontario Securities Commission (the "Commission") for a ruling pursuant to section 73 of the Securities Act, R.S.O. 1980, c.466 (the "Act") that trades in exchange traded options on stock indexes for which OCC is the clearing corporation ("Index Options") entered into on the Chicago Board Options Exchange, Incorporated, the American Stock Exchange, Inc., and the New York Stock Exchange (the "Exchanges") are not subject to section 52 of the Act insofar as the form and delivery of a prospectus are concerned;

WHEREAS the Commission has granted orders and rulings to OCC, the cumulative effect of which is to permit the filing of a prospectus and an options disclosure document with the Commission, and the delivery to the investor of such options disclosure document in lieu of the prospectus, in connection with the trading in put and call options on equity securities, including Canadian securities, where OCC is the clearing corporation for such options on various U.S. exchanges;

AND WHEREAS the Commission has granted a ruling to OCC as of March 4, 1983 having the effect of permitting the filing with the Commission of a prospectus, the options disclosure document referred to above, a supplementary disclosure document dealing with put and call options on debt securities and a supplementary disclosure document dealing with put and call options on certain currencies, and the delivery to the investor of the options disclosure document and the applicable supplementary disclosure document in lieu of the prospectus in connection with the trading on various U.S. exchanges of put and call options on debt securities or on currencies for which OCC is the clearing corporation;

AND WHEREAS OCC has filed a prospectus for which a final receipt was issued by the Director on November 12, 1982;

AND WHEREAS the ruling requested would permit the trading of Index Options on the Exchanges, where investors are provided with, in lieu of a prospectus, a summary disclosure document in the form approved by the Commission pursuant to its ruling dated October 28, 1982 (the "Options Disclosure Document"), and an additional disclosure document expressly dealing with Index Options, substantially in the form now submitted to the Commission in respect of the subject application and attached as Schedule "A" hereto (the "Index Options Disclosure Document");

AND WHEREAS the Commission is of the opinion that it is not prejudicial to the public interest to so rule;

AND WHEREAS the Commission has been assured by the Canadian Securities Institute that the Canadian Options Course and the examination relating thereto will be modified so that effective on October 4, 1983 such examination will include sufficient questions regarding Index Options so as to adequately examine individuals who have completed such examination on their proficiency with respect to Index Options;

AND WHEREAS the Commission has heard counsel for OCC, for The Toronto Stock Exchange, and for the Commission, and representatives of the investment industry;

NOW THEREFORE it is ruled that section 52 of the Act shall not apply to a distribution of Index Options so far as the form and delivery of a prospectus is concerned, on the following terms and conditions:

1. trades in Index Options are executed on one of the Exchanges, in compliance with applicable securities legislation and with the rules and requirements of such Exchange;
2. each customer, prior to trading Index Options shall have received a copy of the Options Disclosure Document current at the time of receipt, and a copy of the Index Options Disclosure Document current at the time of receipt;
3. if there is a material change in the information contained in the Options Disclosure Document or the Index Options Disclosure Document:
 - (a) each prospective customer, prior to the opening of an account to trade in Index Options shall be furnished with a dated copy of the relevant Document amended to reflect the material change ("an amended Document"); and
 - (b) each current customer, to whom an Options Disclosure Document or Index Options Disclosure Document was previously furnished, shall be furnished with:
 - (i) an amended Document; or
 - (ii) an amendment describing the material change;
4. OCC will renew its prospectus from time to time as required pursuant to section 61(2) of the Act, but the obligation to send or deliver a prospectus pursuant to Section 70 of the Act shall be fulfilled by the dealer's sending or delivering the Options Disclosure Document and the Index Options Disclosure Document in lieu of the prospectus; provided that, if the customer so requests, a copy of the prospectus shall also be sent or delivered without charge to the customer;
5. the provisions of section 70 and 130 of the Act with respect to a prospectus shall apply with necessary modifications to an Options Disclosure Document and the Index Options Disclosure Document delivered under the provisions of this ruling;
6. the Index Options Disclosure Document shall, together with the Options Disclosure Document, contain true and plain disclosure of the material facts relating to the Index Options which OCC believes, on reasonable grounds, are most relevant to a prudent investor who is considering whether to acquire such securities;

7. where an Options Disclosure Document or the Index Options Disclosure Document contains an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact that is required under the provisions of this ruling to be stated or that is necessary to make a statement not misleading in the light of the circumstances in which it was made, such misrepresentation shall be deemed to be contained in the current prospectus of OCC for the purposes of section 126 of the Act; and
8. trades in Index Options are effected only through a registrant who is a member of The Toronto Stock Exchange.
